Excerpt from Venezuela-British Guiana Boundary Arbitration: Digest of Evidence Arranged According to Subjects

The Barima, between Mora passage and Barima point, can hardly be called an independent stream it is rather one of those many channels through which the Orinoco empties its waters into the ocean. At certain states of the tide the waters of the Barima flow westward and are discharged into the Orinoco; at other states the current is in the opposite direction, the water from the Orinoco flowing eastward through this same Barima channel, and discharging through the Mora passage into the sea. This set of conditions, which converts the lower Barima and the Mora passage into a veritable Orinoco mouth, gives rise to unusual conditions in the Mora passage itself. Same, p. 15.
